ABOUT THIS REPORT

Who and what this report covers

Published under the Gender Pay Gap Information Act 2021 and the Employment Equality Act 1998 (Section 20A) (Gender Pay Gap Information) Regulations 2022, as amended in 2024 and 2025.

01

Snapshot date

30 June 2026

The date our employee headcount is taken.

02

Reporting period

12 months

1 July 2025 to 30 June 2026.

03

Employees

58

30 men and 28 women employed on the snapshot date.

04

Working pattern

28 / 30

28 full-time and 30 part-time employees. No temporary contracts.

All figures use gross pay before tax for the 12-month reporting period

HOURLY PAY GAP

Women’s average hourly pay is higher than men’s

A negative gap means women’s hourly pay was higher than men’s. Each gap is shown as a percentage of men’s pay.

−6.6%

Mean gap

All employees

−1.0%

Median gap

All employees

−8.1%	Part-time mean gap	30 part-time employees: 17 men and 13 women.
−1.1%	Part-time median gap	Part-time men and women are paid on very similar hourly rates.
Not applicable	Temporary employees	No employees were on temporary contracts during the period.

The median gap is close to zero because most of our people are hourly-paid on similar rates

HOURLY PAY

Average hourly pay for men and women

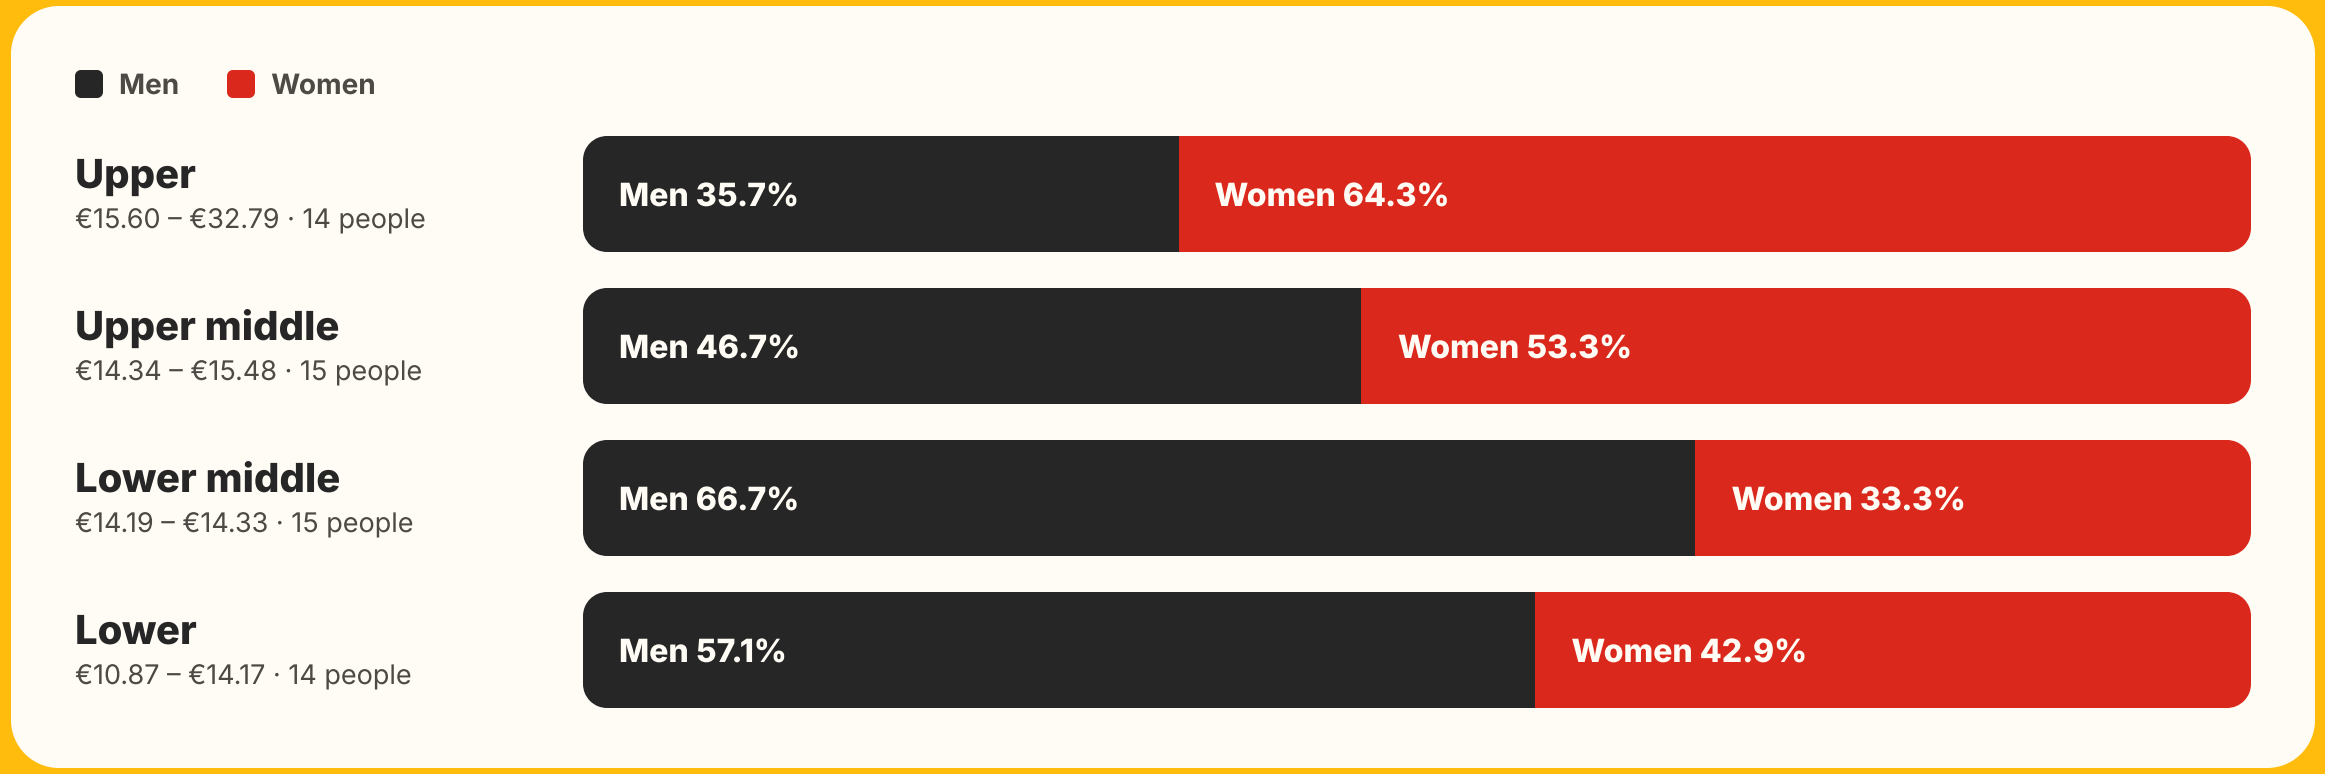

Hourly pay is each employee's ordinary pay plus bonus pay for the period, divided by their total hours.

MEASURE	MEN	WOMEN	GAP

PAY QUARTILES

Women make up most of the highest-paid quarter

All 58 employees are ranked by hourly pay and split into four groups as equal in size as possible.

Men make up the majority of the two lowest-paid quarters

Bonuses and benefits in kind

€8,185 in quarterly bonuses was paid to 14 employees for July 2025 to June 2026. A negative gap means women's bonuses were larger than men's.

01

Received a bonus

Share of men and of women paid a bonus in the period: 8 men and 6 women.

MEN	WOMEN
26.7%	21.4%

02

Bonus pay gap

Among those who received one: mean bonus €414 for men and €813 for women; median €225 and €743.

MEAN	MEDIAN
−96.4%	−230.0%

03

Received benefits in kind

Medical insurance and life assurance, provided with some salaried roles.

MEN	WOMEN
3.3%	7.1%

WHAT THE FIGURES MEAN

Our gap reflects who holds our salaried roles

1	Salaried roles	4 of our 5 salaried employees are women. These roles pay €20 to €33 an hour, above our hourly-paid roles, and they lift women's mean pay.
2	Hourly-paid roles	53 of our 58 employees are paid by the hour, mostly €14 to €16. Among hourly-paid staff alone, women's mean pay is 2.1% higher than men's.
3	Part-time staff	One part-time salaried role, held by a woman, accounts for most of the −8.1% part-time mean gap. Without it, the gap would be −2.1%.
4	Bonuses and benefits	Salaried staff received €835 to €1,500 in bonuses, against €40 to €650 for hourly staff, and 3 of the 4 salaried recipients are women. Medical and life assurance also come with salaried roles.
5	Small numbers	With 58 employees, one or two appointments can move the mean by several percentage points from year to year.

ACTIONS

What we are doing next

The steps we are taking to keep pay fair for men and women across our restaurants.

01

Pay rates

We set hourly rates by role, not by the person, and review them each year to keep them consistent.

02

Progression

We encourage men and women in hourly roles to apply for supervisory and salaried positions.

03

Recruitment

We advertise roles in gender-neutral language and recruit on skills and experience.

04

Flexible working

We offer part-time hours across our roles and keep flexible working open to everyone.

05

Pay transparency

We will prepare for the EU Pay Transparency Directive once it becomes Irish law.

METHOD AND NOTES

How we calculated our figures

Figures follow the government guidance note for employers on reporting in 2026, updated 18 May 2026.

Pay: gross ordinary pay for the period, including basic pay, evening and Sunday premiums, overtime, holiday, public holiday and sick pay.

Bonuses: the four quarterly bonuses for July 2025 to June 2026. The April–June 2025 bonus relates to work before the period and is excluded.

Hours: actual paid hours for hourly-paid staff, including paid leave. 2,028 hours for full-time salaried staff (39 hours × 52 weeks).

Hourly pay: each employee's ordinary pay plus bonus pay, divided by their total hours.

Quartiles: all 58 employees ranked by hourly pay and split into four groups.

Benefits in kind: medical insurance and life assurance.

Not included

- Back pay for work done outside the period
- Expense reimbursements
- Redundancy and termination payments
- Employees who were not employed on the snapshot date
